Hughes--Hagenbuch.

The many friends of Miss Jane Hughes and Mr. Lloyd Hagenbuch who were present at their wedding on June 7th, witnessed, perhaps, the most pleasant event of the kind which has ever taken place in the vicinity of Lime Ridge.

The Methodist Episcopal church, where the ceremony was performed, was most tastefully decorated and afforded a perfect haven of rest in which among flowers, evergreens and music, the guests awaited the appointed time. At 4:15 o'clock Schalla's orchestra struck up Mendelssohn's March and the bridal party entered.

The ushers were Messrs. Wm. H. Martz, Joshua O. Boyles, Le Grand Jacoby and Edward B. Kepner; Bridesmaids, Misses Margaret Werkheiser, Annie Kling, Elizabeth Fauste and Elizabeth Low; Maid of Honor, Miss Mary Low.

The bride, leaning on the arm of her father, was met at the altar by the groom, and the groomsman Dr. C. L. Freas, where the Episcopal ceremony was performed by the Rev. Oliver S. Metzler, assisted by the Rev. Jonathan R. Shipe.

The bride was attired in white bengaline silk en train and carried a beautiful boquet of white roses. The brides maids and Maid of Honor wore cream and pink, and carried roses.

At the home of the bride's parents, congratulations were showered upon the happy couple, after which an elaborate luncheon was served.

The presents were numerous and costly and reflected the high esteem in which these young people were held, including several liberal checks, articles of furniture, a handsome silver service from the "Clover Club" of Berwick and a diamond brooch, the latter being a gift from the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Hagenbuch left on the evening train for Philadelphia and the sea-shore amid the best wishes of all.

[The above report comes in a little late but we cheerfully give it a place.]

The Minnesota Fires.

A MILLON DOLLARS WORTH OF PROPERTY DESTROYED AT VIRGINIA.

VIRGINIA, June 20.—The gross loss from the fire here Sunday is not less than $1,000.000, and the insurance is estimated at $300,000. There is no positive evidence that any persons perished in the flames, but some bones were discovered in the ruins yesterday which several people thought were the remains of a woman. All the leading business houses were located on Chestnut street. Of these not a single one remains. Further north in the residence portion not a building was left standing. Two or three fellows were caught kindling fires in several of the houses. In the confusion all escaped. Capture would have been followed by lynching. Burke's camp was totally destroyed, and at the Jones and Rouchelieu Mines all the improvements were consumed. At the New England Mine the boarding camp was burned. Sunday Virginia had not less than two thousand inhabitants. In the evening fully five hundred people went away on the Mesaba train. All are practically homeless. At 11 o'clock two wagonloads of tents and provisions had been landed here by teamsters from the grading camps. The Mesaba trains bring liberal supplies of provisions, but it is barely adequate, and must necessarily be followed up by further aid.

There was another fire about one o'clock yesterday afternoon. It started west of Mesaba tracks on the south of the town site, jumped the tracks and ran up the east side towards the passenger depot, and soon died out.

It is stated that two-thirds of the town of Merrit has been destroyed.

The man who stops his paper because there is something in it that he doesn't like observes an exchange, should be consistent, get up and leave the hotel table if he happens to find something on the bill of fare that did not just suit his taste. He would be just as consistent in one act as the other. A good newspaper is the bill of fare of mental food for as many tastes as possible, and the reader ought to know that the article which does not suit him is, perhaps just to the taste of nearly every other reader of the paper. The man who insists on having a paper to his individual taste should buy the material and edit one for himself and ask no one else to read it.—Ex.

HAZLETON AND VICINITY.

On Wednesday evening, June 7th, the Wyoming Classis met in the Reformed church at Hazleton. I do not propose to give publicity to the deliberations of that body although they were highly interesting and edifying and no doubt would interest the general public. I will merely speak of the hospitality of the Hazleton people, of the adjacent scenery, and of the excursion the kind people of the Reformed church of that place gave to all the members of Classis who were not otherwise engaged.

On Saturday afternoon, June 10th a four horse omnibus and a two horse hack appeared in front of the church where the excursionists were anxiously in waiting The first objective point was the Mountain house overlooking Butler valley. The weather was intensely warm. Threatening showers and distant thunder were seen and heard in all directions. The atmosphere was heavily charged with a smoky haze and the scenery was grand beyond description.

The hazy condition of the atmosphere added double beauty to the picturesque landscape stretched out in the distance below us. After indulging in a glass of refreshing lemonade we were driven to the strippings of the coal mines where the wonders of nature are still more mysterious. After securing a mine boss for guide we were shown all the operations of mining coal without entering the mines. Stripping the coal is a process of uncovering the coal, or removing the covering of earth and rock which exposes the coal where it can be mined without going underneath the ground. The guide led us to great troughs, four hundred yards in length, and from 175 to 200 feet in depth, and probably 500 feet in width, from which all the coal and earth were removed. The sides of the troughs from the bottom upward inclined at about the same angles on either side, hence the slopes of the sides were about the same. In some places however, they approached the perpendicular. We were also shown other troughs (veins) where the earth and rock were removed, and the coal yet remaining. These mines had all been worked years ago, and the stripping revealed all the work done underground. Here is seen the drift, or slope, lengthwise along the bottom of the trough and the chambers about every forty feet apart, up either side of the trough where the coal had previously been removed and the pillars, or supports left standing. Imagine a trough seven to ten miles in length with occasional breaks, 175 to 200 feet in depth and 500 feet in width, "honey combed" by miners years ago and is now being stripped for the pillars.

You have some faint idea of the cost of mining coal and of the great profit there must be in coal mining, otherwise no company could afford to strip the coal. We were told by our guide that in places the coal vein was 65 feet in depth. The inquiring mind may wonder what they do with all the earth taken from the top of the coal. The great troughs, or basins from which the coal and earth were removed become depositaries for other strippings. The earth above the rockbed is being removed by means of a powerful engine and machinery which scrapes up a ton of earth no doubt at every lift, and dumps it in a car and thence is conveyed on a track to a vacant trough as above described. Walking along on either side of a trough of the strippings where the coal is not yet removed, a misstep or slip would precipitate one down a slope into a chamber to be picked up at the bottom of the trough a mass of mangled and wrecked humanity. Since my visit to the strippings I have become still more sceptical on geological theory of the coal formation than ever heretofore.

A more kind and hospitable people than the Hazleton people I have never met. The spirit of hospitality seems to characterize the whole city. Other points of interest I visited, but a description would make the article too lengthy.

J. C. WENNER.

A DECIDED IMPROVEMENT.

Near the Zion church in Fishingcreek township, is located the cemetery, a city of the dead. The old dilapidated board fence has given way to a beautiful and substantial wire fence which commends itself to every passer-by. For this much needed improvement the community is indebted principly to Mr. John Zahner, one of the Trustees. The project being placed principally in his hands, he determined to raise the funds without a festival and to have a substantial iron fence enclose the whole cemetery. In this he was quite successful and the community feel very grateful to him for his untiring energy in carrying the undertaking forward to completion.

HESS--HOWER.

The Methodist Episcopal church was filled to it utmost capacity last week Thursday evening by friends who had gathered to witness the ceremony that bound together for life Mr. J. A. Hess and Miss Lillian Hower both of this town. The wedding took place at 8 o'clock and was performed by Rev. W. G. Ferguson, pastor of the M. E. church. The procession entered the church in the following order: The ushers, George Sloan, Freeze Quick, Samuel Bidleman and Elmer Brugler; the bridesmaids, Miss Lizzie Hess of Wilkesbarre, and Miss Gertrude Hower, of Bloomsburg; the bride accompanied by the maid of honor, Miss Vida McHenry. As these marched up one aisle, the bridegroom and his best man, Geo. B. Hunt, came up the other and they met before the pulpit, where the fateful words were pronounced. Mrs. Fred Holmes played the wedding march. At the close of the ceremony the church bell was rung. The bridal party and numerous guests went to the home of Mr. Hess on Main street, adjoining his shoe store, where a reception was held. The house has been repaired and newly furnished throughout, and they went to housekeeping on their return from a trip.

The bride wore a dress of white bengaline with veil of tulle, and the bridesmaids and maid of honor were attired in lansdown. The gentlemen wore full dress suits. The gifts to the bride were numerous and beautiful. The Bloom band serenaded Mr. and Mrs. Hess, who left on the 11 o'clock train.

AN ENTERPRISING FIRM.

The firm of Cummings & Verdy who started in business a few years ago, has met with remarkable success. It is composed of two young men of strict integrity, possessing industry and business ability and their trade has constantly grown, and they are now engaged in a wholesale as well as retail traffic. They have just issued a neat catalogue of 52 pages, giving a list of the goods they handle. It includes candies of all kinds, candy boxes, jars, show cases, biscuits, crackers, fruits, nuts, paper and paper bags, twine, fire works, flags and decoration goods, &c. It is profusely illustrated with cuts. Tneir stock of fire works for 4th of July is very large, and dealers who handle such goods can get a full suppy from the smallest cracker to the largest rocket. The baking department is first class in every respect, and fresh bread, rolls, and cakes are made every day. One of the firm is constantly on the road, and they are filling large wholesale orders every day. Their establishment is a credit to the town, and their prosperity is a matter of congratulation.

A Newsboy Killed.

Joseph Keegan, the well-known newsboy running on the L. & B., was killed at the upper end of the passing switch here Saturday evening. The northern bound passenger ran to the end of the switch to await the arrival of the down train which was seven minutes late. The engineer left his locomotive and crossed the track for the purpose of signalling to the engineer of the on-coming train. Young Keegan accompanied him and as the train was close at hand attempted to re-cross to his train. He was struck by the pilot of the engine and thrown against the standing train. Life was extinct when he was picked up, his skull being crushed and his body bruised. Keegan's remains were taken to Hyde Park where his widowed mother, whose only support he was, lived. The young man was one of the most popular newsboys on the road and was a great favorite with the trainmen.—Echo.

The famous blarney stone, which for centuries occupied a place in historic old Blarney Castle, in Ireland, has arrived at the World's Fair. It was shipped here by Lady Aberdeen, and will form one of the attractions of her Irish Village. It was placed in the walls of the reproduction of Blarney Castle, which forms a part of the Irish village, where it may be kissed by all who have the hardihood to be lowered head down to where it is to temporarily rest.

All parrots are bred in their native countries, captured soon after hatched and shipped into the various places of civilization. They will not breed after once becoming tamed. They learn to talk from the one having the care of them, and become good talkers if they have good instructors.

Good Temper in Travelling.

From Harper's Bazar.

We hear of a good many requisites for travelling in comfort, but none of them surpass good temper, especially in hot dusty weather. To be indifferent to the crying of cross and tired babies, to a shawl or a wrap over the shoulders when some fresh air fiend persists in sending a current of cold wind from an open window, equally to be patient when you want the window open and somebody else wants it shut, to be ready to accept delays without grumbling, and to be as sweet at a journey's end as at its beginning, this is to be indeed good-tempered.

If one travels easily, and is not made faint and ill by the rapid motion of the train, or seasick by the roll of the steamer there is little credit in keeping amiable. But many women suffer fearfully from jolting and jarring. Their heads ache, their stomachs rebel, their nerves are on edge. It is nothing short of saintly to be pleasant in these circumstances; but some people achieve it, and they are held in pleasant memory by their fellow-travellers.

A certain amount of philosophy is an armor of proof when one is on a journey. The thought that not you but the conductor and the captain and the engineer are responsible for the safety of the cars or boat should suffice to keep you from needless and useless figeting when there is a halt. Some people waste an immense amount of energy in trying to undertake what is not within their province. No amount of idle fuming will cool a heated journal or repair a break in the machinery, so, it is as well to keep one's self from friction, maintain one's composure, and trust in the kind care of Providence.

In every emergency, in every experience, the good-tempered person has the advantage of the one who is cross and irritable. This is always true.

The World's Fair will be open on Sundays. The court of appeals has decided that the United States has no control over the matter, and if the authorities of the state of Illinois see fit to keep it open on Sunday they can do so.

NORMAL EXAMINATIONS.

The examinations of the Senior and Junior classes at the Normal, were held on Monday and Tuesday, the Board of Examiners consisting of Deputy State Superintendent J. Q. Stewart, of Harrisburg; Prof. M. Benedict, Principal of the Edinboro Normal School; R. M. McNeal, Superintendent of Dauphin county; Prof. Goho, Superintendent of Milton schools; and Prof. Welsh. The results were announced Wednesday. All of the Seniors passed, numbering 113, and all but two Juniors.

Three members of the Faculty of the Normal School have resigned their positions Prof. F. H. Jenkins will engage in other business. Prof. W. H. Butts will enter upon a course of study preparatory for the Episcopal ministry, and Prof. O. H. Bakeless has accepted a more lucrative position in the Carlisle Indian School. Prof. Dennis, a graduate of Haverford College has been secured to take Prof. Bakeless' place. Miss Rosa M. Haas of Hagerstown. Md. has been engaged in the music department. She is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, and has had much experience in important positions.

A party of a dozen jolly young men entered Blue & Heddens' restaurant last Thursday evening and seating themselves in the dining hall, proceeded to order such dishes as pleased their fancy. It transpired that they were eating at the expense of Jere Hess who had been married earlier in the evening, and the supper was the sequel to a serenade that was given Mr. Hess and his bride by this merry crew. The music furnished by them, however, was of the kind known as Calathumpian, and was produced on tin pans, dry goods boxes and similar instruments. Jere of course was highly delighted with it, but it is not known whether he sent the boys to the White House in order to show his appreciation of the compliment or because he thought that would be the best way to induce them to let up on the racket. Which ever it was, it had the desired effect.

Argument Court.

An adjourned Court was held Tuesday afternoon.

In the estate of George Boger, deceased, satisfaction of recognizance of Percival Foulk decreed.

Sale of real estate ordered in the estate of Mary E. Fetterman deceased.

The Faculty of the Normal School recommended about 40 to the examining Board who were to be examined in the branches preparatory to entering the Junior class. They were termed sub-Juniors. Out of the class of 40, 28 of them passed in the examinations, and will therefore not need be examined again in seven of the branches to enter the Junior class. This is the first examination of this kind held in this place.

The Building Committee of the Board of School Directors visited the High School Building Tuesday afternoon and directed the janitor to burn out the dry closets on the boys side. That of the girls side will be burned a week later. They next visited the Fifth street building and found the grading there almost completed and in fine condition. The measurements were taken for slate and order given for seats in the new room which will be furnished for the A primary grade.

The Normal school was visited on Monday by Hon. S. M. Wherry, James E. McKean, E. J. McClune, and G. R. Dykeman, members of the Board of Trustees of the Shippensburg Normal school. That school has recently received an appropriation of $50,000 from the legislature, and these gentlemen are on a tour visiting other Normal schools to get new ideas that will enable them to expend the money to the best advantage in erecting new buildings. They were much pleased with what they saw here.

Irene Girton, Emma Cadman and Katie Peifer, three of the first graduates of our High School who entered the Senior Class last fall are among the Normal graduates this year. They saved the time and expense of one year at the Normal, by taking the Normal Course of the High School.

Dr. J. H. Harris, President of Bucknell University at Lewisburg, will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the Normal School Auditorium on Sunday, June 25th, at 3 o'clock.

Dysert is supposed to have been implicated in fifty robberies in Western Pennsylvania during the past two weeks.

READING, June 21.—While sitting under a large shade tree in front of his home at South Birdsboro, David McCallicker, aged 74 years, who had been blind for over four years, suddenly recovered his eyesight. There appears to have been no special cause for this occurrence, but the fact remains that while for several years he could not see with or without spectacles, now he can easily read fine print with the natural eye.

A BRUTAL FATHER IN TROUBLE.

John Wonder Arrested for Cruelty to His 9-Year-Old Son.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—John Wonder, a letter carrier who resides at No. 839 Charlotta street, was arrested by Lieutenant Heaton, of the Seventh district, on a warrant charging him with cruelty to his 9-year-old son.

A week or so ago neighbors who were aware of the harsh treatment the boy was receiving notified the Society to Protect Children from Cruelty of the case. An investigation was made and a warrant issued for Wonder's arrest.

As the accused seemed to have stopped the brutalities he was in the habit of inflicting on his son, the warrant was held without being served. Last evening the neighbors were startled by the agonizing shrieks of the lad, and, knowing full well the reason of the outcry, notified Lieutenant Heaton, who went to the house.

The heartless parent, it was found, had stripped off the boy's clothing and bound his hands with a rope. The lad was then suspended so that his feet barely touched the floor. With a piece of heavy rubber hose Wonder lashed the boy. Each blow left a livid mark upon the boy's body, many of the cruel lashes drawing blood.

Lieutenant Heaton states that he found the boy to be a mass of bleeding sores from his heels to his head, and that he could hardly have survived any additional blows.

Wonder was given a hearing before Magistrate Clement and held in bail for court. The boy was turned over to the society.

Was Disappointed in Love Too.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—The motive for the weird suicide of Watchman Elmer Hammond, which occurred at Atlantic City, is believed to have been despondency over his discharge a week ago from Shellenberger's hide and tallow works, at Oxford and Mascher streets. It is also hinted that unrequited love had something to do with the case, as he had been paying attention to a young woman here, who was seen in his company on Sunday and to whom he is said to have been engaged.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

The Libby Prison War Museum.

Of the many attractions outside of the World's Fair in Chicago, there are but few in which there is so much interest centered as there is in the Libby Prison War Museum. In 1889 this celebrated prison was removed from Richmond to Chicago and converted into a War Museum. The project was undertaken by a syndicate of the best known business men of the city whose enterprise was conceived in a commercial spirit, but has attained a national reputation. A project such as this was never before heard of. To move a brick and stone building the size of Libby more than a thousand miles, across rivers and mountains, was an enterprise that many of the best known contractors in the West refused to undertake at any price. But the move was made with success. Then the famous old structure was filled with war material that represents the work of a lifetime and the expenditure of half a million dollars. The great collection is conceded to be second to none in the country and includes much of the most valuable material that the greatest civil war the world has ever known has left to posterity. The collection includes thousands and thousands of relics of every description, many of which form important links in the history of the Nation. The old building itself is fraught with interesting memories and the story of the celebrated tunnel escape of Feb. 9, 1864, never fails to interest the visitors. One hundred and nine Union officers made their escape through that tunnel, which formed one of the most thrilling events in the history of the war.

Miss Americus.—"Oh, yes; we have that class in this country, but we call them tramps."

Huckleberry Bill lives on the mountain near Kane, McKean county. He is 75 years old, and since he became a voter he has dwelt in the solitude of the vast forest, picking berries for a living in summer, frying rattle-snake fat in the fall, hunting rabbits, bear and deer in winter, and tapping maple sugar sap in the spring. Doing this more than half a century, tells the Warren Mirror. Bill says he has gathered 1,000 bushels of huckleberries, killed 1,735 rattlesnakes for their fat, slaughtered over 1,500 wild animals and got sap enough to make forty barrels of best maple sugar. He is a veteran of two wars and was never married.

As a blood-purifier, the most eminent physicians prescribe Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the most powerful combination of vegetable alteratives ever offered to the public. As a spring and family meidcine, it may be freely used by old and young alike.

"What's the matter with it?" asked the Georgetown man.

"It sags like everything."

"It does sag a little bit. But there's no use of fixing it now."

"Why?"

"Because," and he looked thoughtfully up at the big shade tree, "I have three daughters, all over 17 years old, and the engagement season is just opening."

In Paint the best is the cheapest. Strictly Pure White Lead is best; properly applied it will not scale, chip, chalk, or rub off; it firmly adheres to the wood and forms a permanent base for repainting. Paints which peel or scale have to be removed by scraping or burning before satisfactory repainting can be done. When buying it is important to obtain properly made. Time has proven that white lead made by the "Old Dutch" process of slow corrosion possesses qualities that cannot be obtained by any other method of manufacture. This process consumes four to six months time, and produces the brand that has given White Lead its character as the standard paint.

John T. Lewis & Bros.

is the standard brand of strictly pure Lead made by the "Old Dutch" process. You get the best in buying it. You can produce any desired color by tinting this brand of white lead with National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors.

TWO DEATHS FROM STARVATION.

Cases Referred to the Coroner in New York for Investigation.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Dr. John T. Nagle, of the bureau of vital statistics, has referred to the coroner's office for investigation two cases of death said to have resulted from starvation.

He reported that Mary McQuade, eleven months old, had died at No. 8 Varick place and that Dr. T. T. Janeway, of the Northern dispensary, at No. 26 West Seventeenth street, had stated that the child's death had resulted from acute gastritis, due to lack of nourishment.

The child was cared for by Mrs. McDonough, of No. 350 Cherry street. It had been there for three months and Dr. Nagle asked the coroner's office to ascertain whether it had been the victim of "baby farming."

The other case was that of Thomas Daly, 38 years old, who died in the Charity hospital on Blackwell's Island. Dr. M. C. Carr, of the Charity hospital, certified that Daly's death was due to starvation. The man had been in the hospital for nine days and his system was too weak to receive food when he became a patient.

It was thought that he was starving in this city for a long while before his removal to the hospital.

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, June, 19 1893.

The President has been suffering from an attack of rheumatism for several days, which taken in connection with the knowledge that he has been dieting himself for some time to reduce his flesh, which notwithstanding the enormous quantity of the hardest sort of work he constantly does, has been increasing, was made the foundation for numerous sensational rumors concerning his general health. Your correspondent is assured by those who know that Mr. Cleveland's general health, barring the rheumatism, is excellent. He expects, in company with Mrs. Cleveland and baby Ruth to leave Washington tomorrow or next day for his Buzzard Bay cottage, where Mrs. Cleveland and Ruth will spend the summer. Mr. Cleveland will return to Washington within a week or ten days, possibly sooner, and will remain, making occasional visits to Buzzard's Bay until the last of July when he expects to go for at least a months stay. The fact that he expects to spend the month of August away from Washington effectually disposed of the rumored earlier calling of the extra session of Congress, a rumor that probably had its origin in the wishes of those who have been here clamoring for an immediate extra session.

The coroner's jury has nearly completed its task of investigating the Ford's Theatre catastrophe, and its verdict is looked forward to with great interest. It is well nigh certain that it will blame Col. Ainsworth for contributory negligence, if for nothing worse. In that case the grand jury will probably indict Ainsworth for manslaughter, and its finding will necessarily carry some weight with the Army Court of Inquiry which will look into the matter this week. Col. Ainsworth is still at the head of the Records and Pension Office of the War Department, and owing to the peculiar conditions surrounding the position, would still be the legal head of the office and continue to draw his salary, even if he were suspended by the President, as he may be before the end of this week. Ainsworth is a Colonel in the Army, but he has neither regiment nor command; he is not in the line of promotion and cannot be transferred to other duties by the President, and he is the only man in the army who cannot be. Col. Ainsworth can only be removed from the army by Court Martial, and so long as he remains in the army it is doubtful whether the President has authority to appoint any other man chief of the Records and Pension Office, although he can designate another army officer to perform the duties temporarily. A little political tinge has been given the matter by the appearance of Senator Proctor as the special champion of Ainsworth.

Although Secretary Gresham will neither affirm nor deny the statement that Minister Blount has resigned, those who know the intentions of Mr. Blount say it is true, and the presence of Hon. Proctor Knott, of Kentucky, in Washington, has caused the belief that he will be his successor.

Twenty army officers have been detailed, under the act of July 1892, to act as Indian agents. There was considerable difficulty in finding officers willing to serve and the President did not care to detail men for the duty against their wishes.

When next pension day comes around there will be some disagreeably surprised men, among those who will apply for their checks at several of the Pension agencies throughout the country. The failure to receive the customary check will be the first notice these men will have that they have been dropped from the pension roll as a result of the examination now being conducted by a select committee of examiners, of all the pensions granted under Raum's construction of the act of 1890. Although this work has just commenced many names have already been dropped and many more will follow. The men who are being dropped by this committee are not strictly speaking fraudulent pensioners, although they have drawn public money to which they were not entitled. The wrong was committed by Raum in so construing the law as to make them eligible for pensions, and for that reason it is not probable that any attempt will be made to recover the money already paid to those who have been or will be dropped, as will be done in cases where the pensioner got on the roll by fraudulent acts of his own.

Congressman Tucker. of Virginia, says "If Mr. Carlisle keeps on the way he has begun he will be the ideal of democracy and their candidate for the Presidency in 1896. He has done two things that commend him mightily to the popular favor—the replacing of republican officials with democrats and his refusing to be bullied into issuing bonds.

The Reading's Plan Probably a Failure.

PHILADELPHIA, June 21.—Assents to the Philadelphia and Reading railroad readjustment plan came in lively this morning and at eleven o'clock the aggregates were $28,500,000 in general mortgage bonds and 319,000 shares of stock. At the close yesterday the totals were $26,915,000 and 285,000 shares of stock.

Up to this evening the holders of $30.400,000 general mortgage bonds and 381,600 shares of stock had signified their assent to the plan. The amount assented to in New York today was not known in the Reading office. The additional assents in London after three p. m. to-day are also yet to be heard from and assents sent by mail to the Reading office will not reach there until to morrow morning. The privilege granted to security holders expired at midnight to-night, but the adoption or rejection of the plan will not be known until the special meeting of the board of managers to be held to-morrow.

The fate of the plan seems now to depend on to days assents in New York. It is the general belief that the number of shares of stock still needed will be found to be assented to in New York, but that the total amount of bonds assented will fall short of the required $41,828,000 by several millions.

All signs point to the failure of the plan and a number of the most prominent members of the syndicate stated this afternoon that they had abandoned all hope of its adoption, owing to the apparently unconquerable opposition of the New York bondholders.

In event of failure to receive the requisite number of assents there is a bare possibility that the management will decide to-morrow to extend the time for assenting for another week or two. It would be possible to do so, as the underwriting syndicate are bound by the agreement which they signed until August 1, and if the managers so desire they could extend the time until that date.

The meeting reassembled at three o'clock and after a brief session adjourned until to-morrow.

"It has cured others and will cure you" is true only of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The motto suits the medicine and the medicine the motto. What better assurance could you have that a remedy will cure you, than the fact that it has cured such multitudes of others?

Bills Vetoed and Signed.

SEVERAL MEASURES ARE DISPOSED OF BY GOVERNOR PATTISON.

The Governor has vetoed the House bill to secure to mechanics, journeymen and laborers the right to file liens against real estate for the amount of wages due for work or labor done in and about the erection or construction thereof.

Governor says: "The effect of this bill would be to very materially extend the operation of the mechanics' lien law, which is at present liberal and far reaching. Under the proposed act all mechanics, journeymen, or laborers employed in and about the erection or construction of any building or buildings would be entitled to file a lien against them under certain conditions. Such a bill would subject persons letting buildings out by contract to great harrassment and oppression. As a rule, mechanics, journeymen and laborers employed in and about such buildings are protected by prompt weekly or bi-monthly payment of their wages. Labor is fairly entitled to every just protection which the law can throw around it, and I am heartily in sympathy with all measures looking to that end.

"The preference which the laws of Pennsylvania at present give to the wages of labor in executions, in the distribution of decedents' estates and under other conditions, are well merited and commendable to our legislation. The effect of the present law however, would, in my judgment, ultimately be to hinder and obstruct improvements, to place property-owners and builders at a disadvantage and subject them to injury and imposition. Mechanics, journeymen and laborers would, in all probability, be required to waive their rights before being employed and would be hindered, rather than helped, by the general operations of this law."

These bills were approved: Validating partitions of real estate in cases of testacy made in Orphans' Courts prior to the act of June 9, 1889; extending the provisions of the act limiting the time for the completion of rail roads by corporations organized by purchasers at judicial sales so as to embrace corporations organized by purchasers of railroads at sales under or by virtue of powers of sale contained in mortgages or deeds of trust without any process or decree of court; compensating Frank B. Reese, a member of Company B. Thirteenth Regiment, during the time of his disability produced by typhoid fever, which he contracted in the service at Homestead; authorizing the formation of companies for the purpose of quarrying slate, granite, stone or rocks or for dressing, polishing, working or manufacturing the same or any of them, also mineral spring companies incorporated for the purpose of bottling and selling mineral springs water; appropriating $1,500 to mark with a permanent monument the point known as Cherry Tree or Canoe Place, the boundary line of the counties of Indiana, Cambria and Clearfield; appropriating $2,000 to pay the indebtedness of the Children's Aid Society of Western Pennsylvania; appropriating $1,500 to the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania.

NOT IN FAVOR OF LEGISLATION BENEFICIAL TO RAILROAD EMPLOYEES.

The Steam railroad men's union held a meeting in Scranton, June 18, for the purpose of organizing a legislative board to examine candidates for the legislature and ascertain their views on questions of interest to railroad employees. None but members of other railroad organizations are admitted to membership. In the union now represents 125,000 members.

Delegates were present from 186 local lodges throughout the state and a resolution was adopted pledging the members not to vote for any candidate who was not in favor of legislation that will benefit the railroad employees.

A Long Litigation Advances Another Step.

REPORT OF C. O. DORSHEIMER, MASTER IN EQUITY, IN THE CASE OF M. C. MERCUR ET AL. VERSUS STATE LINE & SULLIVAN RAILROAD COMPANY.

A piece of wild land in Sullivan county containing only about one hundred and two acres, but with coal thereon, has been productive of much litigation. Two cases have already been adjudicated in the Supreme Court, and the equity case in which C. O. Dorsheimer, Esq., Master and Examiner, has just filed two reports may yet require to be adjudicated there.

When the late Hon. George D. Jackson died the title of this coal land all appeared to be in his heirs. A bill in equity in Bradford county ensued, in which James H. Codding, Esq., Master and Examiner, made a clear and able report. The Court below and the Supreme Court sustained the findings of law and fact of the Master, and the title of the land was found to be in all the heirs of Josiah Jackson. Six years before this decision of the Supreme Court, or about 1881, the State Line & Sullivan Company with M. C. Mercur, had become owners of one-third of this coal field, and in their mining operations had reached a point where they wished to take out their neighbors' coal too. Litigation resulted in an order for appointment of James Macfarlane, deceased, as Receiver, until the title should be settled, on a basis of ten cents a ton royalty. This order made by Judge Ingham was hotly contested by the Jackson heirs, including Mrs. Emily L. Patrick, late of Towanda, who had also become the owner by purchase of the interest of her brother, Hon. B. Rush Jackson. The executrix of George D. Jackson, deceased, also contested the validity of the purchase by Mrs. Patrick of her brother's interest as being in fraud of the creditors of said brother. In 1889, when Judge Sittser came on the bench, he appointed H. N. Williams, Esq., Master and Examiner, with power not only to pass on the value of the coal, and also the disputed question of fraud in the purchase of the interest of B. Rush Jackson, but with a still higher power of passing on the validity of the order of Judge Ingham in fixing the royalty at ten cents a ton. In 1890, Mr. Williams, in view of the magnitude of the case, with the concurrence of the attorneys, appointed C. M. Hall stenographer to take the very technical testimony, and was also assisted by Benjamin Kuykendall, Jr. The untimely death of Mr. Williams before his conclusions had been reached, rendered the appointment of Mr. Dorsheimer necessary.

Mr. Dorsheimer in a long and very able report finds that the title of Mrs Emily L. Patrick was not fraudulent at all, but a bona fide business purchase; that the court did exceed its powers in fixing a price of ten cents a ton royalty; that twelve cents a ton everything considered, was a fair royalty for the State Line and Sullivan Company to pay for the coal they mined from 1881 to 1886 from this Jackson tract.

Colonel E. Overton, Mercur & Mercur, and Hon. J. F. Sanderson were attorneys in these cases for the State Line & Sullivan Company and the George D. Jackson interests. D. C. DeWitt, R. J. Thomson, Hon. William Elwell, and Geo. E. Elwell represented the Jackson heirs and Mrs. Patrick. In the cases adjudicated in the Supreme Court Hon. William Jessup was also engaged.—Towanda Journal.

Pennsylvania People Benefitted.

MRS. CARRIE BOUTON GAINED IN FLESH 68 LBS. TO 121 1-2 LBS. BY THE USE OF A SIMPLE REMEDY.

MEN AND WOMEN INTERESTED.

"It is astonishing," said one of our physicians the other evening, "how many of the ordinary diseases people suffer from come from the one cause—excess of uric acid in the blood. To discover a medicine that would dissolve this acid has puzzled thousands of the best men of the medical profession, until Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., produced what is known the world over as Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. The great value we place in Favorite Remedy comes from the fact that it is the only medicine that will effectually dissolve this acid thus curing rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles and the sicknesses women suffer from. These and many more troubles all come from the one cause, as I said before, this death-dealing uric acid."

Perhaps there has been no one person in Wyoming Co., Pa., that has suffered more than Mrs. Carrie Bouton, formerly of Schottville, but now of Harvey's Lake, Luzerne Co. Mrs. Bouton, in relating her restoration to health, said: "From a growing girl I suffered from female trouble or weakness peculiar to my sex. Several physicians prescribed for me but I found no relief. I was reduced in flesh down to 68 pounds. By accident I heard of Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and determined to try it, and to my great joy I began to realize that I had found a medicine that was doing me good. I think I had used five bottles when I found that I weighed 121½ pounds and was better in health than I ever was before.

Inquiry among Mrs. Bouton's neighbors shows that she states nothing but the facts in regard to her case. Many other instances of the kind are widely talked of in Scottsville, Tunkhannock, Wilkesbarre and other places where Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has effected many cures after physicians had given up hope.

"But," says one of our prominent druggists, 'Favorite Remedy is equally efficacious in other diseases, as talks with people I have sold Favorite Remedy to affirm. To my knowledge right in our town Favorite Remedy has cured people suffering from rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles."

Since the publication in one of the New York medical journals of the case of Mr. E. P. Tayer, of East Nassau, N. Y., Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy has been increasing in sale. Mr. Tayer had suffered for fifteen years with inflammatory rheumatism. His case was practically abandoned by his physicians. Favorite Remedy was brought to his notice and in less than three months after its use he was a well man.

In commenting on this case Dr. W. H. Morse, of New York City, says: The great good in Favorite Remedy lies in its power to dissolve this deadly uric acid. In cases of dyspepsia, eczema, scrofula or any urinary diseases I have never known it to fail, when taken according to directions. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is not only used by physicians now but can be found on sale by every medicine dealer.—Wilkes-Barre (Pa.) Times.

Waiting for the Last Day

And Praying God to Take Care of My Children

After the Grip—Nervous Prostration, Indigestion, Female Troubles

"In February, 1891, my health began to fail fast, and in June I was much debilitated and was taken with spasms followed by Nervous Prostration. The cause of my decline was an attack of the Grip and a train of other troubles peculiar to my sex. In the fall I was unable to attend to anything, and all winter was very miserable. At one time I was so nervous that for three weeks I walked the floor day and night. I could not sleep. I could not get any help. The world looked

Dark and Dreary

I was just waiting for my last day to come; and all I could do was to pray God to take care of my children. But I saw an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and something about it led me to decide to try this medicine. I said to myself, this will be the last medicine I will ever try. But a happy trial it indeed proved for me. I had taken but half a bottle when my head began to feel better, and by the time the first bottle was gone my head was perfectly well. The black dizziness gradually disappeared. I found I could eat vegetables which for a year I had not dared to touch. I have taken 3 bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and do my work on a large

Skirts are Decreasing in Width.

The crinoline craze has run a very brief and rapid course, and it is pleasant to record that already skirts are decreasing in width. Many women who experimented with the crinoline interlining have found it so stiff, unwieldy, and heavy, that they have sent their gowns back to their dressmakers to have the crinoline removed. The double and triple skirts, or the effect of these simulated by trimming, should be avoided by short or stout women; for them vertical lines of trimming are chosen, or the garniture is confined to the bottom of the gown.—From "Review of Fashions," in Demorest's Family Magazine for July.

THE STUDY OF WORDS.

How to Acquire and Retain a Good Vocabulary.

Nothing is more fascinating than the study of words; nothing more clearly indicates the scholar as opposed to the mere tyro than the nice and fastidious use of these. In words we clothe our thoughts. Eloquent, subtle, poetical, or thrilling as these may be, they are intangible and invisible until arrayed in language. Unspoken thoughts are like unborn children. They cannot come into the world or on the scene of human action till they are born of the spoken or the written word.

One way of acquiring a good vocabulary is, of course, by habitually associating with people who speak correctly, and whose choice of words is careful and elegant. To live with highly educated and congenial people is in itself a liberal education in this regard.

One sometimes wonders at the singular lapses into slovenly and illiterate blunders conspicuous in men and women who "should know better." True, they should, and probably do know better, but in daily practice few people rise very much above the ordinary level of those with whom they always converse. A city-bred girl went to live in a part of the country where provincialisms are the current coin of daily talk. Returning a few years later to her home, no one would have supposed her to be the same person, so many queer little phrases and downright forms of speech, inelegant and lacking in good form, had she, a very susceptible person, picked up and adopted.

If we wish our daughter to be proficient in music we take her to hear the most renowned artists. Technique may be acquired by constant practice under the best instructors, but she can gain feeling, appreciation of color and phrasing, sincere and genuine culture in music only by hearing it rendered well; and this is true of both vocal and instrumental performance. So it is true that a good vocabulary is greatly augmented by habitually listening to eloquent and beautiful speech, to the polished diction of the pulpit, to the rounded and rhythmic sentences of prayer and praise. The young person who always goes to church will gain something not included in our usual thought of church-going—a larger and more facile vocabulary.

"For two years," said a student of French, "I heard no English that I could help. I attended a French church; I went wherever French was spoken, in public and in private; I lived in a French atmosphere."

This is equally true of English. A vocabulary is not gained in a day or a week. It is the slow accretion of many days, the development of many weeks.—Harper's Bazar.

A Queer Tug.

A NEW CRAFT WHICH CAN GO ON LAND OR WATER.

From the Boston Transcript.

A new Canadian invention for use in the lumber districts is coming into general use in Northern Ontario. It is called a steam warping tug. It propels itself on land as well as on water, and is used by lumbermen whose operations are carried on among small lakes connected by streams of uncertain navigation. Six of these unique crafts have been built by the inventors during the past season.

They are built in scow shape, with steel shod runners for moving overland; are 37 feet long, 10 feet beam, decked all over, and having sleeping room for four men in the bow; the bottom and up the bow is covered with steel boiler plate. An engine of 22 horse-power furnishes steam for ten hours' work, with three quarters of a cord of dry wood.

In the water it moves six miles an hour, forward or backward, as required, propelled by side wheels. On land it is propelled by having a cable drum on which is coiled five-eighths of a mile of steel wire cable, which is fastened with pulleys to tree or some object in front, the boat moving as the wire is coiled up. The boiler is hung on an axle in the centre and a screw arranged on the front enables the fireman to tip it forward or back and keep it level going up or down hill. It will move over an elevation of one foot in three on land and draws about 28 inches in the water.

Woman's Danger.

No man can ever know the devoted martyrdom of many women.

Unselfishly a woman works and suffers that home and loved ones may be happy.

When it seems as though her back would break, when she grows irregular, faint, irritable, loses all interest in society, gets the "blues," is crushed with that indescribable feeling of "bearing-down," she "drags along," day after day, suffering agonies that would appal a man.

The cause of all her trouble is some derangement of the uterus or womb, perhaps the development of a tumor, or cancerous humor, — anyway, give it instant attention.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the sure cure. It is recommended by thousands of women. Its cures are unparallelled.

A HUMAN CHRONOMETER.

The Wonderful Instinct of a Man Who Tells Time Without a Watch.

To measure time to the second in periods of a minute—that is, with an accuracy of at least 98.3 per cent.—would be regarded by most persons as a remarkable, though not perhaps a particularly valuable accomplishment. There is a man, however, according to a correspondent, who can do better than this. He is a veritable human chronometer. He can time a sprint race more accurately than most of the stop watches used for that purpose, and is a great deal more reliable than a majority of the men who officiate as timers at foot races, even when they hold good watches. Smith—which, by the way isn't his name—can "call the turn" of the watch to the fifth part of a second.

Smith owns an elaborately constructed split second watch of Swiss manufacture, which was presented to him by the athletic club to which he belongs for winning more prizes in a year than any other athlete in the club. To test the watch he used to time all sorts of things until timing became a habit with him.

In his leisure moments Smith would tick off the seconds mentally as he watched the long timing hand move over the fifth second divisions on the dial of his watch. In a short time he found he could count the seconds without the help of the watch.

When Smith competed in a race he could tell the official timers just how fast he had run. Of course his accomplishment was of great service to him both in training and in racing in enabling him to judge his pace.

It is well known that the time recorded by the watchers at a foot race as well as the more careful observations of astronomers vary usually a fraction of a second. Sometimes this is due to the construction of the watch, but orten to the personal equation of the timer or observer, that is the difference between the observed result and the true depending on the personal qualities or peculiarities. Thus the personal equations of well-known astronomers are matters of record, and timekeepers, too, are "fast" and "slow." When Smith timed a race without a watch, however, this personal equation was eliminated.

Timekeepers see the flash of the pistol that starts the race and the breaking of the tape that ends it instantaneously. It is in transferring these impressions from the mind to the watch through the comparatively slow medium of nerve and muscle that mistakes creep in. Smith didn't need to make this transfer from the mind to the watch. He was the watch. The mental timing hand in his brain moved simultaneously with the flash of the pistol, and stopped as the runners dashed through the tape. It was only necessary for him to keep cool. Of course if he got excited over a big race the whole mechanism was thereby disturbed, and he was no more trustworthy than the timekeeper.

Smith would start his watch and holding it in such a position that he was unable to see the face, could say exactly where the hand was. If another started the watch on a signal from Smith, unless Smith heard the snap of the spring that set the mechanism working, he could not tell exactly how much time had elapsed when the watch was stopped. The variation between the time he announced, however, and the real time indicated by the watch would be the personal equation of the timer.—N. Y. Herald.

A LIKELY STORY.

The Old Hayseed Was Not to Be Fooled by a Conductor.

On board a Baltimore train pulling into Parkersburg was a man whose demeanor conveyed the impression that he was matter-of-fact all the way through. No foolishness, no trifling with or in the every-day affairs of this busy old life.

"Mr. Conductor, what time do we get into Parkersburg?"

"Ten-twenty," replied the official politely.

"Yes. Well; what time can I get a train on west?"

"Nine-twenty."

"To-morrow."

"To-night."

"Conductor, don't take me for a fool because my 'beard grows the wrong way and my clo'es suggest whip-poor-wills and penny-royal. I'm serious."

"So am I, my good friend. You can make it all right."

"W-a-ll, now, how?"

"Just keep your seat."

"And leave town an hour before I get into it?"

"That's the idea, my good friend——"

"Look h'yer. You may be a good conductor, an' know all the stations, an' the spotters, an' how to knock down forty per cent. o' the receipts, but when you claim to have a reversin' lever on the sun, you're off, decidedly off."

"But the time changes an hour at the river."

"Then, at this rate, if I go on to San Francisco, I'll get there some time last week. I guess I'll get off and wait till I catch up with myself."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

How to Serve Strawberries.

Little individual side dishes that have so long accompanied the usual dinner set, making twelve of its one hundred and forty-four more or less pieces, are no longer suitable for use in a really tasteful table service, either for fruit or vegetables. Vegetables are to be cooked sufficiently dry, so that they can be placed upon the plate, and fruit—that is, berries—are dished up into larger saucer-shaped dishes, varying somewhat in shape and size; or, still better, they are passed around the table, each person helping himself upon an ordinary dessert plate previously placed before him, eating them with either a fork or a dessert spoon, both of which have been placed at his disposal and for his choice, according to whether he prefers his berries with cream or without it. If berries are served with their hulls on they are eaten with the fingers, each one dipped separately into sugar on the side of the plate. N. Y. Herald.

WE TELL YOU

nothing new when we state that it pays to engage in a permanent, most healthy and pleasant business, that returns a profit for every day's work. Such is the business we offer the working class. We teach them how to make money rapidly, and guarantee every one who follows our instructions faithfully the making of $300.00 a month.

Every one who takes hold now and works will surely and speedily increase their earnings; there can be no question about it; others now at work are doing it, and you, reader, can do the same. This is the best paying business that you have ever had the chance to secure. You will make a grave mistake if you fail to give it a trial at once. If you grasp the situation, and act quickly, you will directly find yourself in a most prosperous business, at which you can surely make and save large sums of money. The results of only a few hours' work will often equal a week's wages. Whether you are old or young, man or woman, it makes no difference,—do as we tell you, and success will meet you at the very start. Neither experience or capital necessary. Those who work for us are rewarded. Why not write to-day for full particulars, free? E. C. ALLEN & CO., Box No. 420, Augusta, Me.

NATURE'S MYSTERIES.

One of Them is the Disappearance of the Buck's Horns.

"One of the greatest mysteries of the woods is the buck deer and its antlers," remarked an observant old Pike county hunter. "Who ever killed a buck that had no horns, and who ever found a set of antlers in the woods? I've roamed the forests of northern Pennyslvania at all seasons during the past forty years, and in that time deer have been very plentiful in those woods, and I never either killed a hornless buck or found a pair of horns or heard of any one who did. Yet woodsmen all know, or ought to know, that no buck has even the sign of a horn until he is two years old, and that every buck that has horns casts them off each spring and grows a new set.

"Now, where do all the bucks under two years old keep themselves, and what becomes of the cast-off antlers that no woodsman ever sees? These are mysteries as deep as the mystery of dead wild animals—I mean wild animals that die natural deaths. The four-footed dwellers in the woods certainly do not live forever. Age and disease must carry them off regularly, as human beings are carried off, but what becomes of their bodies? I never heard of any one coming across a dead bear or deer or wildcat or fox in the woods that had died from natural causes. I found the carcass of a big five-pronged buck in the woods once, but a rattlesnake, also dead, had its fangs buried in the deer's nostrils. There had evidently been a fight to the death between the reptile and the beast. Another time I followed the trail of a bear from a clearing where it had stolen a young sheep. I came upon the headless body of the sheep a mile or so out on the trail, and half a mile further on, near the edge of a swamp, I was surprised to find the dead body of the bear. Its jaws were open and its glassy eyes were pushed far out of its head. I held a post-mortem examination on the dead bear and found the sheep's head lodged in its throat. How or why the bear ever permitted it to get there I am unable to explain. I have many times found other dead wild animals in the woods, but never one that did not show unquestionable evidence of having died from violence of some kind. Every woodsman will tell you the same.

"I don't believe there is anything more curious in nature than the buck's horns. They begin to make their appearance in the spring of the buck's second year. The first sign of their coming is a swelling of the skin over the spots on top of the head from which the horns are to rise. The antlers are now budding, for on the swelling spots are the footstalks from which they are to spring, and the arteries of the head—the antlers being, in all their preliminary or cartilaginous stages, but parts of the animal's general system—are beginning to deposit on them, little by little, but with great rapidity, the bony matter of which the finished horns are composed. As the antlers grow the skin still stretches over them, and continues to do so until they have reached their natural size and become solid horn. This is the stage in the growth of the antlers that is technically known among hunters as the time when the buck is 'in velvet.' The skin is, indeed, a beautiful velvet covering, and all beneath it is, in fact, simply a great tissue of blood vessels. While the horns continue soft and a part of the deer's nervous and veinous structure, the arteries which run up from the head through them make furrows in the yielding substance. It is these furrows that give to the buck's horns their rough, corrugated surface when they have become hardened.

"The buck's first horns do not arrive at the dignity of the antlers. They are simply graceful, sharp-pointed spikes; hence the term 'spike buck' among hunters. Each succeeding year adds a prong, though, and when the buck is adorned with his proud headgear of five prongs, all hunters know that he can't be less than seven years old. The five-prong antler is the perfect and complete one, and any more prongs have no significance except as freaks. But the velvety skin, with its delicate subarterial structure, grows with and envelopes all the great spread of the five-prong antler, as well as the few inches of the young buck's spike. As long as the horns are in velvet they are extremely tender and entirely useless. The soft skin must therefore be removed, but not suddenly nor roughly, and not until another extraordinary stage in the development of the horns is completed. The arteries and their circulation must be disconnected from the horns before the skin is broken, or the result would be the turning of the large quantity of blood back to the brain or some internal organ and death be the result. This danger is prevented and the desired end at the same time accomplished by the formation of a rough ring of bone around the base of the horns, notches being left in it at first for the passage of the arteries. These openings are gradually contracted as new bone forms until the arteries are compressed as by a ligature, and the circulation above the ring of bone is effectually stopped. The velvet skin, thus deprived of its vital source, dries up and peels off of the horns, a process which the buck now hastens by rubbing his antlers against the trunks of trees. This rubbing against the trees displaces more or less bark, and leaves a favorite sign to the observant hunter passing through the woods that there are deer about. When the velvet is off the horns they have reached their perfect stage.

"That the sweeping, powerful antlers of a mature buck, which he carries so proudly and defiantly, should be but the growth of a fortnight or so does not seem possible, but such is the fact. When early spring comes again a new set of horns begins to sprout. They spring from the head like a growing plant, and push last year's antlers from their place. These fall from the buck's head. The new horns soon crown him again proudly, but what becomes of the cast-off set? I have asked that question scores of times, and pause for a reply. I am pausing yet."—N. Y. Sun.

A Little Daughter

Of a Church of England minister cured of a distressing rash, by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Mr. RICHARD BIRKS, the well-known Druggist, 207 McGill st., Montreal, P. Q., says:

I have sold Ayer's Family Medicines for 40 years, and have heard nothing but good said of them. I know of many performed by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, one in particular being that of a little daughter of a Church of England minister. The child was literally covered from head to foot with a red and exceedingly troublesome rash, from which she had suffered for two or three years, in spite of the best medical treatment available. Her father was in great distress about the case, and, at my recommendation, at last began to administer Ayer's Sarsaparilla, two bottles of which effected a complete cure, much to her relief and her father's delight. I am sure, were he here to-day, he would testify in the strongest terms as to the merits of
